

Holiday Shopping

Contributed by Bruce Frigeri
Monday, 30 November 2009

To help launch holiday shopping, Indiefilmkiosk.com is offering an additional 10% discount for the rest of the week. Regular visitors to this site are well aware of the close relationship between IFC and Indiefilmkiosk.com. IFK, as we like to call it, specializes in hard to find indie and foreign films. There's coupons and discounts floating all over the web for IFK. You can play the movie genius game linked in the banner above for some of them, and then take an extra 10% off whatever your winning discount is for even more savings.

IFK offers a diverse range of titles, from work by Korean Bad Boy Auteur Kim Ki-Duk, to French romances like Clara Et Moi and Wild Camp. There is also a growing special interest section for non-fiction as well as some classic American indie titles like El Camino, starring Elisabeth Moss and Chris Denham. Check it out and save on unique holiday gifts today!